Aquanaut Drifter CS1300

The Aquanaut Drifter CS 1300 "Witha" is a solid multi-chine built motor yacht with comfortable and stable sailing characteristics. The hull is equipped with bilge keels and is propelled by a powerful Perkins M150 with four-bladed propeller. Manoeuvring is further facilitated by hydraulic bow and stern thrusters. This makes the yacht suitable for both leisurely trips on inland waterways and for coastal passages.

The interior is warmly finished in cherry wood and offers three cabins with a total of five fixed berths. In the front of the ship there is a spacious guest cabin with a spacious V-bed and a separate bathroom with electric toilet, sink and shower option. The extensive galley is practically laid out with worktops to starboard and port, two refrigerators, a gas oven and a sink, making cooking on board comfortable and efficient. The saloon is bright and spacious, with a large U-shaped sofa, a wardrobe with a concealed TV on lift and a height-adjustable table, ideal for both relaxing and dining.

In the aft is a third cabin with a spacious single bed, suitable as sleeping or storage space, and the owner's cabin offers a spacious freestanding double bed, plenty of storage space and an en-suite bathroom with sink, electric toilet and separate shower cubicle. The engine compartment is easily accessible via large hatches in the saloon and via a staircase in the aft cabin for quick checks. On the aft deck is the steering position with navigation equipment and a fixed adjustable helm seat, there is a bench seat with storage space and heating vents for cooler evenings. The aft deck is enclosed by a fully lockable tent from which all sides can be opened or removed, and the tent construction allows easy access to the bollards when closed. Via a semicircular staircase you reach the spacious swimming platform, which is ideal as an extra terrace or to store bicycles and a dinghy. The gangways are generous and finished with Flexiteek and stainless steel railing. The Aquanaut Drifter CS 1300 is a CE-B certified multi-chine motor yacht that combines comfort and reliability, suitable for short stays and longer trips.
