European Voyager — new hull available

Have your dream yacht built? Now immediately available: the European Voyager 1400 II, inspired by the robust American Passagemaker trawler yachts. This design combines the best of both worlds and has been specially developed for those who value comfort, visibility and versatility on the water.

On top of the flybridge is an outside steering position with a fantastic 360° view, ideal for relaxed cruising and enjoying the panorama. At the same time, the inside steering position in a cosy, well-finished wheelhouse offers excellent all-round visibility and also forms a direct connection to the galley and the open cockpit, allowing navigation and living together on board to come together seamlessly.

Standard layout: the European Voyager comes with a layout of two cabins, with the owner's cabin being designed as a middle cabin. In addition, there is a separate toilet room and a separate bathroom with shower, which offers a lot of privacy and comfort for longer stays on board. If you prefer more berths or a different layout, there is also an option for a layout with three cabins, fully customizable to your wishes.

The European Voyager feels like a holiday home on the water: thoughtful layout, comfortable living spaces and a layout that makes the most of both indoor and outdoor living. Thanks to the stable hull and practical layouts, this yacht is suitable for trips on European inland and coastal waters, from day trips to longer trips.

The hull can be fully adapted to your personal taste and purpose. Whether you choose long-distance crossing, relaxing family vacations, or day trips along the coast, the European Voyager offers it! Will this be your dream yacht?
