This Valkvlet 11.30 OK, well-maintained and classic in line, combines timeless elegance with thoughtful functionality. The Valkvlet is steady on course and very manoeuvrable. Powered by a strong 130hp Ford engine and equipped with remote-controlled bow and stern thruster, every manoeuvre feels safe and relaxed. The ship is a feast for the eyes and a pleasure to sail on, whether you're touring quietly or taking a day trip with friends and family.

The interior surprises with an open layout that offers more space and light than you would expect from a vlet in this length. In the open bow there is a spacious bed that easily transforms into a cozy V-round seat, giving the whole a spacious and airy character. The saloon flows seamlessly into the large open cockpit through four French doors, creating one flowing living space inside and out — ideal for sunny days and long evenings on the water.

Practical and comfortably furnished, the Valkvlet has a kitchen with warm wooden worktop and a complete bathroom with toilet, sink and shower. In the wheelhouse/saloon you will find a paddle seat with chart table and a pull-out bench for extra sleeping space on the starboard side; On the port side, the steering position and a cupboard wall have been placed, with plenty of ventilation and light through the large sliding hatch, two side windows and two front windows that can be opened. The rear of the wheelhouse consists of four folding doors, so that the saloon and cockpit can easily be made into one spacious space.

The open cockpit is deliberately spacious: only a bench against the transom leaves a lot of freedom of movement and offers space for (sun) chairs, while the teak finish and self-draining construction add both style and ease of use. Under the cockpit is a large storage space, perfect for lines, cushions and accessories. Important maintenance has recently been carried out: the hull was completely painted in 2021, the superstructure in 2023 and the cockpit tent was completely renewed in 2025.

In short, 'Niña' is a quality boat that effortlessly combines comfort, practical layout and reliable technology. For those who want to make their heart beat faster when seeing and experiencing a solid yacht, this is a great opportunity that you will not easily pass by.
